ROMANTIC STORY
OF A LOST MINEMollie Foxwater Killed Husbands
Who Tried to Obtain Her Secret.

Guthrie, Oklahoma, Sept. 11.—An Osage Indian woman named Foxwater was arrested at Tulsa a few days ago on the charge of having murdered four white men who had been her husbands within the past ten years. The bleached bones of three of the men were lately found by a prospecting party—at least, they were supposed to have been the bones of the white men—and later the woman confessed that they were. She confessed that she killed these men because they tried to wring from her the secret of a lost gold mine, the whereabouts of which she says she has knowledge.

She refused to tell them, and they went in search of it, and with the knowledge they had from time to time picked up from her, were likely to locate it. Then, she said, she was compelled to kill them, as she would anyone else who would seek to carry away the gold of her forefathers.

Mollie Foxwater is not an ugly, coarse-featured woman, as many squaws are, but she possesses many of the refined features of her white sisters. She has been well educated and has also traveled much. Ten years ago she was married to a young man named Mercer. He came from Illinois to the Indian country. There had always been more or less romance surrounding this maiden, and the fact that she possessed a secret of a lost gold mine was enough to cause any young man with romantic tendencies to seek her out. Mercer did so to his sorrow.

He was married to the young half-breed squaw, and she furnished the money to take an extended wedding trip. He was given plenty of money to spend and did not have to work, but all the time he sought to know whence the gold came. One day he was misled by his companions. She said he was tired of living with her, and that was all there was to it. People supposed he had returned to his home in Illinois.

Three years later she was married again. This time A. F. Friem, a farm hand, was charmed into thinking he could worm from her the secret of her wealth and hidden treasure. But it was not long until he disappeared as mysteriously as his predecessor. She was suspected of murdering him, but no one could offer sufficient proof to hold her, and the man never had any relatives who cared enough to attempt to procure proof against her.

Four years ago she was married again, this time to a man named Smith.
He was taken on a long trip, and wine and dined at the expense of the Indian.
In less than six months his curiosity got the better of him and he was put out of the way for trying to make his wife tell him where she got her gold.
This summer she was married, for the fourth time, to William Winters. He died three weeks ago, and his body was found by the roadside. The doctors found he had been given slow poison, and it killed him while on the way home. Her calculations had failed her, and he dropped dead from his horse. His body was found and carried to a physician before she knew anything about it.

A warrant was sworn out for the arrest of the woman, and she was placed in jail at Tulsa. She then gave out the following confession:

"When my father died he told me a secret about a mine supposed to be lost. This mine he took from a party of Spaniards whom he killed. He told me how to find the mine. I have always lived off the gold in this mine, and I don't care who knows it. I am sure that no one will ever find it.
I have been married four times. It is true, and in each case I have done well by my husband. But they all wanted me to tell them where the mine was, and some of them even attempted to follow me when I would go to visit it and get gold to buy food for their mouths. They never had to work a stroke after they married me, and I could not and yet cannot see why they wanted to know where this money of mine is located. I admit that I killed all four of them, but I say that I did it in self-defense. Did they not follow me and try to get me to tell them where the mine was? Some of them even threatened to kill me if I did not tell them. I think I have good grounds for self-defense, and I will fight the case to the bitter end."

There is a legend regarding this mine. It is known as the Louisiana mine and is somewhere in the Cherokee Nation, Indian Territory. In early days the Osage Indians had this country for their hunting ground, and white men who visited them returned East with stories how the Indians used gold for bullets and shod their horses' hoofs with it instead of steel, because the gold was more plentiful.
At that time the Indian told these white men that they were in possession of vast mines in their domain which they had caused the Spaniards to give up.

Efforts to learn where these mines were proved futile. At different times many men have made the trip through the Grand river hills with the hope of finding the mines. It is dangerous even at this time for a white man to traverse this country, from the fact that it is populated only by full-blood Indians, who hate the sight of a white man in what they term their sacred domain.

It was near the Grand river hills that Mollie Foxwater always lived and she often made long trips into the hills alone at night. Her husbands used to come into Tulsa many times and tell the inhabitants about their wife being away on a visit to her lost mine.

She owns a fine stone house and had a number of servants to wait upon her.
She dressed well and always went heavily armed until she was arrested.
She had her house furnished with goods from the Eastern markets and she read all the books of the day.

AKRON MEN

Interested in Road Which Promises Well.

The Springfield & Xenia Traction Company, also known as the Little Miami, was posted for the first time on the local Stock Exchange today, says the Cleveland Leader. The road was projected about one year and a half ago by the following gentlemen: John P. Martin, of Xenia; E. W. and H. C. Christy, of Akron; Charles Orr; W. H. Mariatt, R. P. Ranney, of this city.

It was bonded for $500,000, of which $400,000 is now outstanding. The underwriting was done largely by M. J.
Mandelbaum & Co., F. T. Pomeroy, W. E. Hutton & Co., of Cincinnati, and others.

Of the common stock there is an issue of $500,000. The bond holders receiving a stock bonus of 100 per cent, and many local capitalists availed themselves of the opportunity offered. The road is twenty-two miles in length, and serves a population of 80,000. The greater portion of the line is over private right-of-way, which has been purchased in part by stock. The franchises at the terminal points are for twenty-five years. The road is in a direct line between Cincinnati and Toledo, and also Columbus. The first cars were put in operation a week ago over the entire line, though a portion of it, between Yellow Springs and Springfield has been used for a longer time. The equipment is of the best, consisting of 70-pound T-rails on a well-ballasted roadbed and eight modern cars.

On the 15th inst. the regular schedule will be installed with a running time between the two cities of one hour.

The officers are J. R. Nutt, president; F. T. Pomeroy, vice president; Will Christy, of Akron, treasurer; and R.
E. Inskeep, of Akron, secretary.

Akron Endorsement
Makes This Claim
a Fact.

Endorsed by scores of Akron citizens who cheerfully make a public statement of their experience, is the proof we have to back our claims that Doan's Kidney Pills cure every form of kidney ills from a common backache to serious urinary disorders. Here is one local example. We have many more like it.

Mr. A. W. Miller, of 152 S. Howard st., says: "I suffered from a dull aching in my loins, sluggish kidneys, aching in the back of my head and a feeling of languor which unnerved me.
On attempting to rise after sitting, sharp pains caught me in the back and there was annoyance from the kidney secretions. Procuring Doan's Kidney Pills from Lamparter & Co.'s drug store, I began using them, and they removed the whole trouble. Mrs.
Miller also used this remedy with great benefit."

The Astors Provided a Swell Time For the Duke

Newport, Sept. 11.—The last social function in Newport given in honor of Grand Duke Boris was given September 8 by Mr. and Mrs. John Jacob Astor on board the steam yacht Nourmahal. A party of 60 was entertained at luncheon. The yacht was headed for Rocky Point, a pleasure resort in Narragansett Bay, about 20 miles from Newport. Here the party enjoyed all the amusements afforded excursionists, such as shooting the chutes, flying horses, chrysalis maze, the devil's well and various other money-getters, but the Duke was most impressed with the chutes, which he repeatedly tried, and after enjoying the other amusements returned to the chutes for a final trip before boarding the yacht for Newport.

And Forgets to Return Rented Rigs.

Rock Falls, Ill., Sept. 11.—A handsome woman horse thief, who has been operating through Northern Illinois and Eastern Iowa, stealing horses in ten cities, is now in a fair way to be captured. During the past five weeks this woman has visited ten towns, and at each place has succeeded in stealing two horses.

The woman is unique in her methods. She applies at a livery stable for a rig, asking for the best outfit in the stable, telling the owner that she lives at a nearby town, and usually gives the name of Mrs. Anna Smith. She pays in advance, and that is the last the owner sees of her or the rig. The various descriptions of the woman and her actions are all the same. She is very fascinating and has no difficulty in convincing the liverymen of the truth of her story.

A Medicine For Children.

Mothers as a rule are rather skeptical as regards the kind of medicine they give their children, and usually rely on some old family recipe handed down by their forefathers. Now, human nature is different, and requires more modern treatment, yet the old practice of administering roots and herbs still holds good, but medical research, of necessity, has been obliged to delve deeper for something that will more adequately combat the present causes of disease. This need has been discovered to an admirable degree in Wright's Celery Tea, a perfectly harmless, safe and pleasant remedy which can be given to children with implicit confidence and most gratifying results for all the ills of childhood. 25c and 50c.

TIP TOP SHOW.

Quinlan & Wall "Made Good" at the Colonial.

Patrons of the Colonial theatre were given a rare treat, Wednesday night, in the line of minstrelsy. Quinlan & Wall, minstrel favorites, with an excellent supporting company, "made good," and will ever after be welcome visitors to Akron play houses. The comic and sentimental singing was excellent, and the musical specialties were fully up to the expectations of the audience. Messrs. Quinlan and Wall were extremely funny and kept their audience in a continual uproar.
The feats of the high-class jugglers were generously applauded. As a whole, the show was very satisfactory, and many were the complimentary expressions as the audience was leaving the theatre after the show.

Another Rich Strike Reported From Alaska.

Tacoma, Wash., Sept. 11.—Authentic reports received from the New Nazina gold diggings in the Copper river valley, 200 miles inland from Valdez, prove Nazina to be the richest strike made in Alaska since Nome was discovered.

The best pay seems to be on the Rex gulch, where in three days, four men shuffled out $1,500 in one sluice box.
About 400 claims have been staked out in the district, of which 212 are owned or controlled by Robert Biel of New York, who represents a large New York syndicate.

As prospected, the Nazina district covers 200 square miles.

Democratic

The Democratic electors of the counties of Cuyahoga, Lorain, Medina and Summit, composing the Eighth Judicial Circuit, are hereby notified to meet in Convention at Turn Hall, Lorain street, Cleveland, Ohio,

SATURDAY, SEPT. 13, AT 9 A. M., to place in nomination one candidate for Judge of said Circuit.

The apportionment of representation in said convention shall be one delegate for each 500 votes, or majority fraction thereof, cast by the respective counties of said Circuit for James Kilbourne for Governor at the election in November, 1901, entitling said counties to the following representation:

Cuyahoga County.....64 delegates.
Lorain County..... 5 delegates.
Medina County..... 3 delegates.
Summit County.....10 delegates.

Delegates may be elected at the Conventions of the respective counties called to choose delegates to the State Convention, or the Central Committee of such counties may appoint delegates to the Judicial Convention.

By resolution of the Democratic committee of said Circuit, Mr. J. V.
Welsh, of Akron, O., is chosen as tem-

Kodol
Dyspepsia Cure

People once thought that the only way to cure indigestion was to stop eating. The trouble with such treatment is, that to stop eating is to stop living. KODOL DYSPEPSIA CURE has changed the whole method of treating this complaint. It contains all the natural digestive fluids and digests all you eat without aid from the stomach, so you can eat all the good food you want and be cured of your trouble at the same time.
"I have been troubled with indigestion and dyspepsia for several years and often sat down to eat but had to give it up after eating only two bites. I used two bottles of KODOL DYSPEPSIA CURE and am alright to-day. Cannot eat anything I want." W. L. Easton, Audubon, Iowa.

It can't help but do you good

Prepared by E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago. The $1 bottle contains 2 1/2 times the 50c. size.
When you suffer from biliousness or constipation, use the famous little live pills known as DeWitt's Little EARLY RISERS. They never gripe.
